English	Use the pictures below to create three of your own colourful semantics sentences, like we do in class. Think about who is in the picture first and what they are doing then think about what they are doing it with . For example: The girl is reading a book .	Use the picture below to create at least 5 of your own sentences. Your sentences could be about the people in the picture, the setting (where it is happening) or you could even create your own story about the people in the picture and what they are doing.	Use the picture below to create at least 8 of your own sentences, remember to use conjunctions (and, but, so). Your sentences could be about the people in the picture, the setting (where it is happening) or you could even create your own story about the people in the picture and what they are doing.
